SMALL DESCRIPTION OF THE DISSEMINATION/ RESULTS:	The following conclusions came out from the workshop: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The functionality for e-learning and for supporting training sessions provided by the learning environment is adequate - The personal reports that learners can obtain and the comparative reports that trainers can create are useful but not optimal and most likely they will not achieve much - The course modules are not difficult to follow but they could benefit from additional interactivity - The quality of the visual resources are really interesting - The barometer look and feel is very good but the underlining functionality is not very obvious and needs to be more self-explanatory while the process needs to be simplified - Technical skills are not so useful. Most people in printing industry lack of soft skills and this is the reason of the declining sector - The presentation of BPIF was extremely useful and another one should also take place.
